City asks supervisors to post pollution signs on beach

by Dan Barber

A letter from State Health Officer Alton Cobb in regard to the bacteriological quality of water in the Mississippi Sound has prompted the city of Bay St. Louis to seek action from the county board of supervisors to post signs on county beach areas warning the public that swimming may be hazardous to their health.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver in a special council meeting called Wednesday morning to discuss the latest communication from the State Board of Health said that the council now feels the responsibility for action should be placed in the county's hands.

Cobb's letter, which was in response to one written by Commissioner Lucien Kidd May 15, said that the health department did not feel that bacteriological samples collected 700 to 800 feet from the shoreline were indicative of the quality of water where most persons were observed wading or dabbling.

"It would appear to me," Cobb said, "that the samples and the sampling locations selected by the Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission are more representative."

Cobb's comments came on the heels of attempts by Kidd and the city to have the State Health Office accept tests conducted by the city itself at different locations and different distances from the shoreline which indicated a smaller bacteriological count.

In their reversed Wednesday the Bay Council seemed convinced that Public Health officials are determined that some action must be taken by local

Offices closed

Offices which will be closed Monday June 3 in observance of Jefferson Davis' birthday include the Hancock County Welfare office on Necaise St. in Bay St. Louis, the Hancock County Court House and the Bay St. Louis City Hall.

Mrs. Lucretia Fly, Welfare Department director, said that food stamps would not be issued Monday. The office will reopen Tuesday.

The Waveland City Hall will remain open, according to Mayor John Longo.

bodies to inform the public.

"It is hoped," Cobb said, "that you and the other mayors, in addition to the supervisors, along the Mississippi Sound will jointly agree to take appropriate action to inform the public that swimming in the affected waters may be hazardous to their health."

The State Health Office has met with only limited success so far in getting response from local governments in Jackson, Harrison, and Hancock Counties to post warning signs as a result of an April 25 letter calling for such action. The Health Board said that findings of the Mississippi Air and Water Pollution Control Commission had showed excessive bacteriological counts for most areas along the Mississippi Gulf Coast shoreline.

Biloxi Mayor Jerry O'Keefe said May 14 no action would be taken by Biloxi on Cobb's request unless an illness resulting from polluted waters were reported.

Gulfport Mayor C.L. Bullock was rebuked by Harrison County Board of Supervisors president Ernest Melvin after announcing May 16 that the city intended to follow the health office request and post signs in motels and hotels within the city limits.

The only other city to announce its intentions to carry out the health office proposal has been Ocean Springs.

Carver said Wednesday he would write letters to each supervisor calling attention to the latest letter from Cobb and would ask for action from the supervisors.

"We're not trying to put the monkey on the supervisors' back," he said, "but the responsibility should be theirs."

Carver said he felt the city had a responsibility to visitors to the area as well as "our own people" to get this thing publicized as soon as possible.

The only supervisor who could be reached for comment before press time Wednesday said that if it "had to be done, I guess I'd be for it."

Beat Three supervisor Oscar Peterson said though he would rather find "where the pollution is coming from and try to stop it."

"I'd hate to see it happen," he said, "but if they say we got to, then I guess I'd do it."

Beat Five supervisor Jimmy

Travira has earlier made public his feelings on the issue saying that he was opposed to posting any signs on the beaches.

The board is expected to take up the matter at their regularly scheduled meeting Tuesday.

Governor notes improvements in state prison operation

Although he wouldn't regard it as a country club, Governor William Waller said Monday that he was "encouraged" by improvements at the state penitentiary at Parchman, following an all day inspection tour of the controversial facility.

Waller said numerous improvements had been made at the large plantation-type penitentiary over recent months, and he was critical of the "negative" comments which some persons have made about the penitentiary.

The governor flew to the Parchman facility for a tour and personal meeting with various inmates.

He ate a lunch of meat, potatoes, gravy, corn, butter beans and banana pudding with inmates, officials and reporters at the pre-release center.

Other stops on a bus tour through the 21,000 acre prison were at the first Amid cries from Waveland city attorney Lucien Gex to neither "forgive nor forget" and from Rep. Trent Lott (R-Miss.) to start talking about "what's good with America", a crowd of about 100 persons Monday attended the unofficial opening of the new Waveland American Legion Hall.

Lott saying that he was sick of the news media playing up only what was wrong with America, asked the crowd to remember what was right in this country.

"I still believe we have the best system of government in this country ever conceived by man," Lott said.

"It's time," he said, "to put down the crying-towel. Let's stop talking about what's bad with America today and start talking about what's good."

Lott cautioned the crowd not to let the voice of a small, vocal and arrogant minority speak for all Americans.

"If anyone should believe in America," Lott said, "it's me because of the opportunity you gave a young man, like myself, to go to Washington and serve you."

Lott's address was equaled in terms of applause it received by that of Gex who said Americans should neither forgive nor forget those "who shirked their duty when their country called."

Gex said that pleas for amnesty for draft dodgers and deserters could not be tolerated if "we are going to have a future generation which will stand up for this country."

"The message of Memorial Day," Gex said, "should be an effort to instill some small amount of patriotism back in Americans. If we could do this," Gex said, "it would do more than all of the flowers on all of the graves."

Terrence Feeney, commander of the American Legion Waveland Post No. 77, said that the building was dedicated to "all our brave men who gave of their lives—who made the supreme sacrifice."

Feeney said that he hoped the new building helped the youth in the city, county, and state get to know more about what patriotism means as well as stimulating other community activities.

Feeney was followed by George Cleary, post adjutant, and master of ceremonies, who introduced the principal speakers and honored guests.

Guests included J.W. Summerall, commander of the Gulfport Legion;

Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver and Commissioners Lucien Kidd and Clarence Ladner, Waveland Mayor John Longo and alderman Ducre Bourgeois, Bay St. Louis Post 139 Commander Al Vetter and State Legion chairman John Rutherford.

Board braces for close bond vote

With only a few days remaining before voters return their verdict on a $1,565,000 bond issue for county school improvements, members of the county school board Tuesday were plotting final strategy for the bond's acceptance.

In a last minute push to cement approval for the bond issue, board representatives and school officials will attempt to convince voters in public meetings tonight at Hancock North Central School and next Monday night in Pearlinton of the need for the proposed improvements.

Assistant superintendent of Education E.E. Breland and Gulfview principal J.D. Penton reported no turnout at all at a public meeting this past Tuesday night at that school.

Penton said Wednesday that apparently no one had any questions about the board's proposals and that comments he had received from people during the last week had generally been favorable to the bond issue.

In that board meeting Tuesday, financial consultant Ed LeVasseur told school board members that bond attorneys were still working with amortization tables. LeVasseur said that most people in the county would probably pay only around $4 or $5 a year for the first three years if a bond issue were passed based on an average assessed valuation of $1000 in the county. This would gradually decrease over a 25 year period as the bonds were retired, he said.

LeVasseur said that it was impossible to determine until amortization tables were completed exactly how many mills would be added to ad valorem real estate taxes, but said at the risk of making a guess it would probably be around four to five mills.

School board members obtained approval to hold a bond election from county supervisors in April after accepting architectural plans drawn by Proffer, Teague & Ashton, architects of Gulfport.

The $1.5 million construction proposal covers additions to two of the county's existing schools plus the construction of a completely new high school in Lakeshore to serve the southern part of the county.

Charles B. Murphy School would receive four new classrooms and two new restroom facilities while Hancock North Central School, the county's only high school at present, would have a new gymnasium and cafeteria constructed.

The board proposes to build a new high school at Gulfview Elementary School in Lakeshore at a cost of approximately $940,000.

Voters living in Bay St. Louis and Waveland will not vote on the bond issue since the two cities maintain a separate school system apart from that operated by the county.

Voters face three issues Tuesday

Hancock County voters will go to the polls Tuesday to cast ballots on three separate issues.

Second District voters on the coast will decide on one of two candidates running in the Democratic primary for Circuit Judge, place three. Long Beach attorney and assistant District Attorney Harold DeMetz opposes incumbent Judge Floyd J. Logan, the first time the position has been challenged by vote.

In the Fifth Congressional District race for U. S. House of Representatives, Karl Mertz and Walter Wilson Murphey are the only two candidates for the Democratic primary position.

Also on Tuesday, only Hancock County voters living outside of the municipal separate school district will vote in a special election for the Hancock County School bond issue.

In the latter election, separate ballots will be cast in separate boxes at the regular voting precincts, in an effort to save tax payers some money, an election official said.

Sheriff blasts DA for lack of cooperation

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner expressed extreme dissatisfaction Wednesday over statements by District Attorney Albert Necaise in a Tuesday newspaper article concerning three men wanted in a 1972 Pearl Harbor murder case.

Tuesday, Necaise and Circuit Judge Ruble Griffin were in Bay St. Louis to sign warrants for the arrest of the men, sought in connection with the December, 1972 murders of William E. Mulvey, 50, and Billie Tracey Johnson, 35, both of Atlanta, Ga.

The bodies of Mulvey and the Johnson woman were found in a ditch in an isolated area of Pearl Harbor and were described by authorities at that time as victims of "gangland slaying". The bodies remained unidentified for several days as a nationwide search began for persons responsible.

Identification of the bodies revealed that both Mulvey and the woman had lengthy criminal records and were wanted at the time by Union City, Ala. police on an armed robbery charge.

In Bay St. Louis Tuesday, Necaise told reporters that issuance of the arrest warrants was the culmination of "two weeks of intensified efforts to crack the case by Miss. highway patrol officer Joe Price, the Organized Crime Div. of the state attorney general's office and Hancock County and St.

Tammany Parish sheriff's departments."

Angered by the latter statement, Sheriff Ladner stated that his office was not involved in the "two weeks of intensive efforts" with the other agencies as he had not been notified by anyone involved of the investigation, nor had the district attorney had the courtesy to inform the sheriff of any details or progress in the case.

His department, Ladner said, has been conducting its own investigation continuously for the past 17 months but has never received any cooperation or help from the district attorney's office.

"What made me particularly angry," Sheriff Ladner told the Echo, "is that Necaise apparently by-passed this department in issuing the warrants and affidavits Tuesday. He called me late Monday afternoon for a 9:30 a.m. appointment Tuesday to sign warrants."

When he arrived at his office Tuesday at 9 a.m., the sheriff said he was told Necaise was in the court house, the papers already signed and Judge Griffin had already left.

When the sheriff asked Necaise for some further information in the case, he said he was told virtually nothing.

"I had to read about it in the paper Tuesday afternoon," Ladner said angrily.

Necaise issued the sheriff a warrant to serve for the arrest of Walter Burnett, 31, of Covington, La. Burnett is also wanted in connection with the Sunday shooting of Pat O'Brien, co-owner of the famed New Orleans French Quarter nightclub.

Other warrants issued for the Pearl Harbor murders were for James M. Granger, 32, currently serving a 21-year sentence at Angola for manslaughter, and Larry C. Salzman, an Angola on a five-year burglary conviction.

Retiring teachers are honored by school

Two Bay St. Louis public school teachers, retiring after more than 30 years in the field of education, were honored at graduation ceremonies Friday night at Tiger stadium in Bay St. Louis.

School superintendent J.D. McCullough, before a large audience of graduates, city and county officials and parents, praised Mrs. Beatrice Breland and Mrs. Juanita J. Erwin for their work in the Bay-Waveland system. Resolutions of commendation from school trustees were presented the two ladies as McCullough outlined their years of service.

Mrs. Erwin was graduated from the University of Southern Mississippi. She retired after more than 35 years in the field of education; the first three years were spent at Walnut Vocational High School in Vance, Miss., and the remaining 32 and a quarter at Bay Senior High School.

She was assistant district supervisor of Future Homemakers of America for 15 years, Sponsor for the Tiger Lily Garden Clubs and was Cheerleader sponsor for a number of years. In addition, she assisted in planning Homecoming Court, was a member of the American and Mississippi Home Economic Association since college days, a member of the American and Mississippi Vocational Education over 20 years and a member of the Mississippi Education Association, Delta Kappa Gamma, Bay-Waveland Garden Club.

At the end of 25 years, she was honored at a banquet by the State Department of Education-Vocational Division for outstanding performance in Vocational Education.

Mrs. Erwin has completed graduate work in several state and out of state schools in the Home Economics field.

Mrs. Breland, the wife of the assistant county Supt. of Education, E. E. Breland, retired after having taught 30 years in the public schools of Mississippi and Louisiana. Mrs. Breland taught 12 years in the Hancock County School system, nine years in the St. Bernard Parish public schools and nine years in the Bay St. Louis system, where she was teaching at the time of her retirement.

She was a graduate of Pearl River Jr. College High School and received her B.S. Degree from the University of Southern Mississippi in Elementary Education.

FIRST CAR FOR MISS JULIE JOHNSON OF BAY ST. LOUIS FROM HERB BARON, SALESMAN AT TURAN-LANE CHEVROLET.

Miss Julie Johnson at 19 gets her first car from Herb Baron at Turan-Lane Chevrolet, a 1972 Toyota Corolla. Miss Johnson was looking for a late model used car. Since her parents have bought many cars from Herb Baron at Turan-Lane Chevrolet, she visited him. Herb Baron was able to help Miss Johnson select a 1972 Toyota that was exactly what she wanted. Miss Johnson found out, like many other folks that Turan-Lane Chevrolet keeps a large selection of late model cars for their customers to select from.

TO THE VOTERS OF HANCOCK COUNTY

During the school year and at its end, do the taxpayers and parents of Hancock County evaluate the progress made in the scholastic accomplishments of the children attending Hancock County Schools?

It is the continuing endeavor of the County School Board to improve and raise the standard of our educational system to the highest level, so the student from his or her first day of attendance to graduation is being prepared for their entrance into a very competitive and progressive world.

Now to do this buildings are needed for every phase of teaching. The continued growth of the schools must be met. To achieve this, additional money is required. A Bond Issue for the necessary fiscal requirements is the only answer. The cost to the average tax payer per year is approximately what you might spend at a football game.

The amount of this Bond Issue is the total that can be funded for approximately three (3) years. The approval of this Issue can make the community center in the Hancock North Central area a possible reality.

WE NEED YOUR HELP.

A VOTE FOR THE BOND ISSUE IS A VOTE FOR YOUR CHILDREN'S FUTURE.

A VOTE AGAINST OR A NON-VOTE PROPOSES A NEGATIVE FUTURE.

Colling's Corner

By E.S. Colling

Having just finished a short bout with sickness—which is why you haven't seen us around the Corner for the past two or three weeks—we come back to find that June is just about ready to bust out all over.

This is one of the really great months of the year, with no more teacher, no more books, windows wide open day and night for the hum of the honeybee, life stirring in the earth and blooming in the garden, when "Nature tries of earth if it be in tune, and over it softly her warm ear lays. 'Tis a time of beginning, of renewing and rededicating, as warm, fresh strength tingles your sinews and hope and determination are rekindled in your heart. It is June! June! June!

Recovering from a sickness is a gracious experience. First of all, you feel good again, and that makes you as happy as the day the circus came to town when you were a kid. Second, you have time to sit around indolently and contemplate the peculiar working of the world and the people in it. Watergate was planned in June; all the more reason to castigate the planners as fools and no-accounts, out of touch with Nature and their own people. On this June, politicians are stumbling about, trying to make up their alleged minds about the people's feelings for them; in most cases there is not much to worry about.

Most feminine attention this month, of course, is directed to that loveliest of creatures, the June bride. What she wears, provides the daily thrill. Brides are sort of special people, and when you add their native charms to the beauty of June roses and gardenias you have a combo that's a sure winner.

But June is more than a month of just pleasure and gaiety. Many tragic things have happened in June throughout the centuries. Battles between the nations of Europe and even in our own Civil War have brought pain and sadness to millions in bygone Junes. But who can sit in the warm Spring sunshine and contemplate these disasters for long when every budding branch and every ecstatic bird is shouting a message of hope and peace and happiness?

There's an old saying that June makes up for past Decembers. For some folks, that's a lot of making-up, but we hope the coming month will do it for them. Have a nice June, everybody, and let sunshine and fragrant blossoms be your daily companions!

Dear Editor:

Louisiana Tech's head football coach, Maxie Lambright, recognized Gilbert Whavers as an outstanding athlete, and the school has awarded him a scholarship. He has excelled in football. The Gulf Coast Athletic Conference named him the Most Outstanding Defensive Lineman in the Conference. He was named the Most Outstanding Lineman in the 1973 Pickle Bowl. He will participate in the Mississippi All-Star Football Game in Jackson (incidentally, Gilbert is the only Bay St. Louis participant). He currently holds the District Eight shot put record. He has lettered three years in track.

The most outstanding lineman in the 1973 Pickle Bowl has brought fame and honor to the Bay St. Louis School system, but J.D. McCullough's lack of communication with the black community failed to mention that Gilbert Whavers even graduated.

On May 24, at Bay Senior High School graduation exercise, school superintendent J. D. McCullough couldn't give Gilbert Whavers honorable mention. A school system obviously predicated on racism couldn't announce his scholarship to Louisiana Tech. Nothing was said about Gilbert Whavers. Had it not been for the unceremonious stuffing of his graduation certificate into his hand, the community would not have known that he graduated - for he does not appear in the class picture.

Despite the media's accolades of Gilbert's triumphs, I feel that it is utterly ridiculous to have a young man of his talents denied recognition that he rightfully deserves by a "McCullough ruined school system".

Another young black athlete who broke records in the 100 and 200 yard dashes with times of 09.8 and 22.3 respectively, failed to be mentioned. In the future I should hope that any athlete regardless of color be given recognition in support and honors brought to the Bay St. Louis school system.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Edward Whavers, Jr.

Ed Note: Although Gilbert's picture was included in the graduation lineup in this issue of the paper, his name and honors were not mentioned in the information sheet released by the school, also in this issue.

FLY CONTROL

Heavy infestations of hornflies cost dairymen big money in loss of milk. A recent survey by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) shows that flies may cost you $40 per cow in loss of milk in a 90-day period of fly infestation.

Flies can be controlled, but you are going to have to start now. One easy method of controlling flies is to simply hang a sack duster at the exit of the milking room. In this way cows are forced to use the duster as they leave. For sack dusters, use three percent cyodrin dust, one percent co-ral or three percent rabon.

You can also spray or dust the animals, but be sure to follow all directions and use only recommended insecticides.

For control out on pasture, try a backrubber placed around mineral boxes and in areas where cows tend to loaf. Be sure to keep the backrubber charged with insecticide.

CRACKING TREATMENTS

If later weed control measures are going to work, you must eliminate that first flush of weeds that emerge with or slightly before the soybeans. When the crop of weeds is not controlled by a preemergence herbicide, an application of dinoseb will be necessary.

The dinoseb should be applied after the weeds are up but not later than the point at which the small soybeans have straightened up and opened their first true leaves.

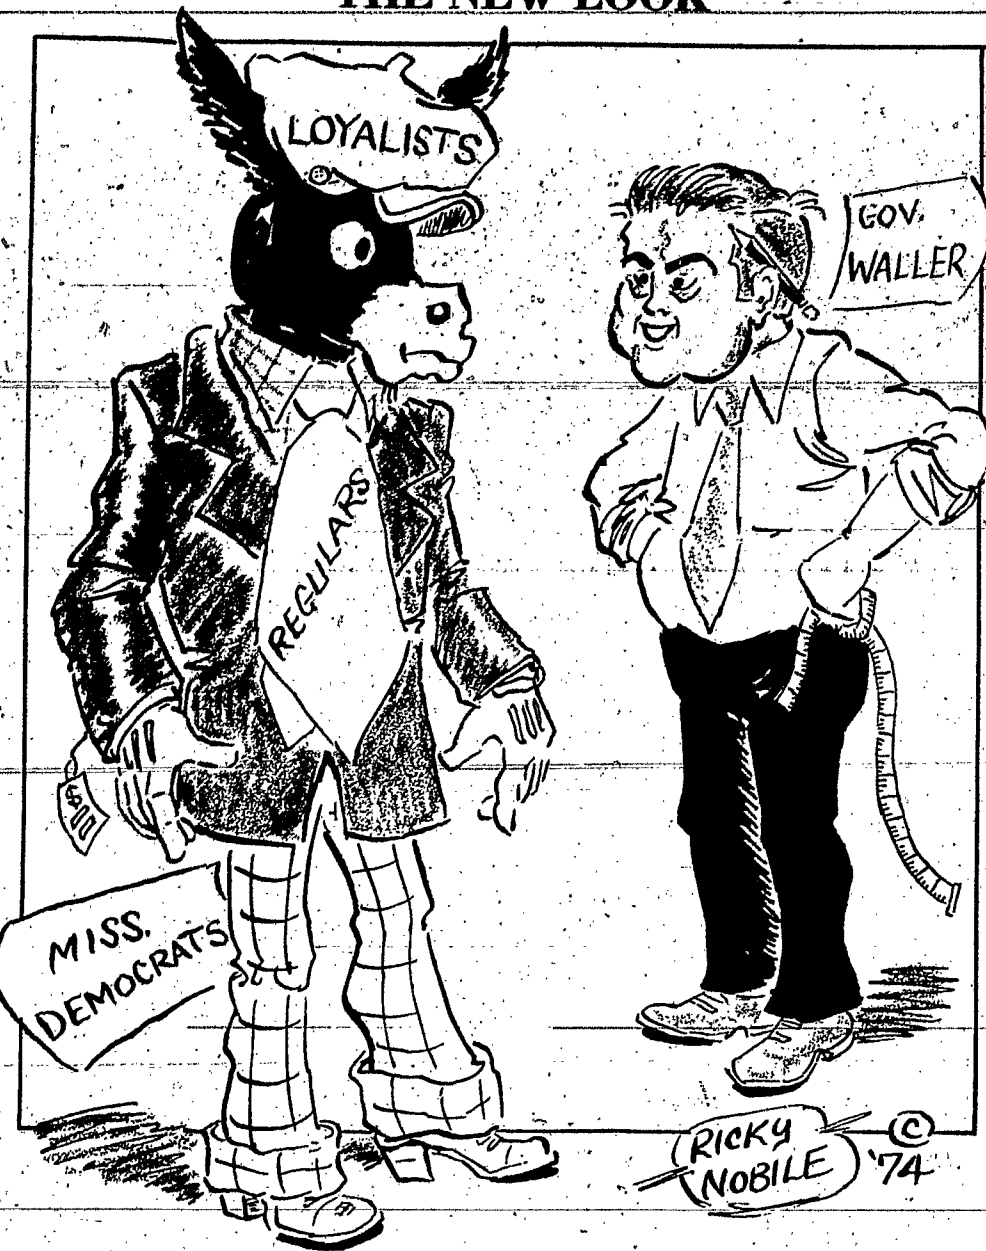

Generally four to six days after planting is the time to make these "Cracking stage" treatments. Timing is important to prevent crop injury, but the weed control results may determine the degree of weed control for the entire season.

PASTURE FERTILIZATION

Even though nitrogen is short and priced much higher than last year, many permanent pastures need some additional nitrogen.

Fertilizer makes for a higher quality forage. It also increases yields, digestibility and use of the forage.

Washington Report

By: Rep. Trent Lott

BIG BROTHER IS WATCHING

If you think you're just another pretty face lost in the crowd, forget it. Your whole life history, down to the day you got that traffic ticket, has been programmed into no telling how many computers throughout this great land. And if you so much as sneeze, that'll probably be part of the record too.

Big Brother, it seems, has grown far too big for his britches. Things have gone so far, in fact, that at least half of the House of Representatives' 435 members have filed bills and resolutions calling for Congressional action to restore the right of individual privacy.

Somewhere along the line, a good many folks - and organizations - completely forgot about all those rights guaranteed in the Bill of Rights and the Constitution. If they care to go back and take a second look at those historic documents, they will find:

1. No less than five of the 10 Bill of Rights, ratified way back in 1791, guaranteeing directly the sovereignty of the people in the pursuit of privacy in the broad sense;

2. Each of the first 10 and subsequent amendments guaranteeing protection of the citizen in the pursuit of his private interests from unwarranted intrusion of the Government; and

3. That the Fourth Amendment, specifically, guarantees the right of the people "to be secure in their person, house papers and effects."

As one of my colleagues pointed out on the floor of the House, Americans are understandably alarmed over "the growing invasion of our citizens' privacy by agencies of the Federal, State and local governments, as well as by independent agencies and businesses."

"Dossiers containing information on almost every American citizen are tucked away in computer data banks and files all over the country," he said. "A brief list of some of the records and information which may have been collected on each of us is frightening: Adoption, airline flight records, arrests, bank accounts, bank loans, birth, car registration, census, consumer credit, conviction records, customs divorce, draft status records, driver's license and record;

"Drug prescriptions, employment, FBI, fingerprints, food stamps, general health, gun registration, ham radio, registration, hotel, hospital, immigration, insurance, job application, library cards, marriage, medicare, military, mortgage, newspaper morgue files, passport, pet registration, pilot registration; political activity, etc."

That is far from a complete list of the official records maintained on each American. It should, however, be enough to give you some idea of the awesome mountains of data collected during a person's lifetime.

Senator Barry Goldwater, testifying before the Senate Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights in early March, pointed out the pitfalls and dangers involved in maintaining such data banks. "Who will program the programmers?" he asked.

"As to strictly governmental records, it was calculated in 1967 that there were over 3.1 billion records on individual Americans stored in at least 1,755 different types of Federal agency files," he added.

If there were 3.1 billion records in 1967, I would hate to think how many are filed away today.

For that reason, I am taking a long and careful look at the idea of establishing a Federal Privacy Board, which would more or less shepherd the return of personal privacy. I don't like the idea of having another federal bureaucracy around, but if it can be created and maintained with that sole responsibility, it might well be worth it. After all, as the Greek orator Pericles noted some 2,400 years ago, one of the hallmarks of a free society is "mutual toleration of private conduct."

Charge a book?

Ms. Mildred Means, children's librarian and Mrs. J. Watson Prindiville, library administrator smile approval as Mayor Warren Carver signs the first Library "charge plate" issued. The new card system is being put into effect this week.

Library issues new charge plates

A brand new system of book rental involving the use of "charge plates" is presently being put into use at City-County Memorial Library. Recent growth of the facility and its branches has made this imperative according to Mrs. J. Watson Prindiville, administrator. The library will be able to give faster, more efficient service with this innovation. As all persons borrowing or returning books must present their cards, confusion as to whether or not a volume has been brought back will be eliminated. Monies were made available for the new system from revenue funds from the City of Bay St. Louis.

Faculty announced for Christ Episcopal schools

Administrators and faculty have been announced for the 1974-75 school year at Christ Episcopal Day School and Coast Episcopal High School, according to Father Charles R. Johnson, Headmaster.

Mrs. June Coffer will serve as principal for both the lower school and high school, and the following teachers have been appointed to the faculty:

ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY:
Librarian - Mrs. Prima Wusnack, BS Library Science, Ole Miss.
Music - Mrs. Sharon Larson, BS, Memphis State.

Chamber endorses bond issue

The Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce this week endorsed the Harrison County courthouse bond issue, announced Russell Ringer Chamber president.

The chamber noted the vital need for the facility to replace the "inadequate one now in use."

Ringer said the transaction of business in the courthouse is important to the operation of the affairs of the county and could be more efficiently handled in a new and modern facility.

The building to be voted on June 4 if passed will house Harrison County Civil Defense and Sheriff's offices plus six court rooms and witness rooms.

The chamber also pointed out that a favorable vote on the issue to provide the necessary funds will mean only a fractional increase in millage.

Legion sponsors

four to Girls State

The annual American Legion Auxiliary Girls State will be held this year in Jackson at Belhaven College from June 3rd thru June 8th.

Auxiliary Unit No. 139 of Bay St. Louis will send four girls this year. Leaving from the Bay are Danell Spiers from Hancock North Central, Kathi Ladner of Bay Sr. High School and Susan Benvenuti and Theresa Murtagh of Our Lady's Academy.

Printing firm extends feelers for airpark

By Dan Barber

A proposal from a New Orleans commercial printing firm to relocate in Stennis International Airpark on six acres of land was taken under advisement Tuesday night by the Hancock Port and Harbor Commission.

David F. Pyburn and Dudley Simpson, principals of the Walle Corporation located at 401 Tchoupitoulas Street, New Orleans, told the commission that the company was interested in broadening its base of operation and in finding a site more suitable for future growth and expansion.

Pyburn said that the company, which produces labels for regional and national manufacturers for application to glass, plastic, and metal containers, was interested in constructing a new 40,000 square foot plant on six acres located north of and adjacent to the Hancock County Vo-Tech Center.

The cards will be permanent, much like your driver's license, and may be obtained at the main library, Waveland branch library, children's room and from the bookmobile.

Pyburn said that in considering a new location for the plant the company was looking for several advantages in addition to the ability to build larger facilities.

One of the major considerations, he said, would be the ability to obtain assistance with financing of the plant construction. Pyburn said that should the company locate in the Industrial Airpark, that it would seek issuance of $1,250,000 in Industrial Revenue Bonds from Hancock County subject to approval by the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board for construction of plant, facilities, and fixed equipment.

Also of importance to the company, he said, was the ability to obtain better tax advantages, to locate where access to the Interstate Highway System and air transportation would provide quick access to the plant, and to locate where the cost of maintenance and operations would be considerably lower than that of the New Orleans area.

Pyburn indicated that the firm was considering another location also but was favorable toward Mississippi because of advantageous state income taxes on corporate profits and the assistance companies could obtain in financing plants and fixed equipment.

The company proposes to purchase the six acres mentioned for a purchase price equal to the amount the county paid for the land and further proposes that the county issue Industrial Revenue Bonds in the amount of approximately $1,250,000 for construction of plant and facilities; that the county pave the access road to the proposed site, and that the county Port and Harbor Commission assist in arranging for sewerage disposal from the plant.

The option to purchase the site, Pyburn said, would be executed upon approval of the agreement by the county supervisors and the sale would be consummated upon issuance of the Industrial Revenue Bonds.

At present Pyburn said the company employs 40 persons with a monthly payroll of $37,000 and expected gross sales in 1974 to reach $1,500,000.

The company, he said, had doubled its sales since 1969 when he, Simpson and a silent third partner acquired the business.

In other business the commission passed a motion authorizing engineer Frank Fromherz to hire a man to check weights of asphalt as trucks leave the mixing plant for extension work on the Stennis Airport runways, and passed a motion agreeing to absorb half of the cost of filling an appeal to the Interstate Commerce Commission regarding barge rates charged at Port Bienville Terminal.

Kim Moore, director of Port Bienville Terminal Operations, said that the terminal would appeal rates presently charged the Port by the Waterways Freight Bureau which have the effect of making the port uncompetitive with the Port of Gulfport.

SPRING IN NEW YORK was expressed with a modern and dramatic arrangement of vine tendrils and three blossoms by Mrs. Frances Martin, whose winning entry was awarded the Creativity Award and a first place in the Pass Christian Garden Club Flower Show. In the background, an Earle deVries painting, one of several executed especially for the spring show.

Spring Forever is Club theme

Earle deVries paintings, executed especially for the show, were a highlight of the recent Pass Christian Garden Club Flower Show, held at the Pass Yacht Club.

The overall theme of "Spring Forever" was carried out in the eight classes in the Artistic Design division. There were also eight classes in Horticulture as well as three educational exhibits on display.

In the latter classification, displays were shown by Miss Jane Northrop on wild flowers; terrariums by Mrs. Howard Haines, and an extensive exhibit by Mrs. George C. Gundlach, an authority on mushrooms.

Mrs. Frances Martin's entry in class four, Artistic Designs, was awarded first place as well as the Creativity Award for the entire show.

The Tri-Color award as well as blue ribbon in Class two was given to Mrs. Lucy Gaudet's elegant and formal mass arrangement of roses and daisies.

Other first place winners in Artistic Design were: Class 1, Pat Law; Class 2, Mrs. Gaudet; Class 3, Mrs. Virginia Blankenship; Class 4, Mrs. Martin; Class 5, Mrs. Julie Byrne; Class 6, Sue Haines; Class 7, Mrs. Sidney Pugh; Class 8-A, Mrs. J. Courtney; Class 8-B, Mrs. Cathy Gilbert.

Mrs. Leland Littell is president of the Garden Club. Mrs. Herman deVries served as show chairman and Mrs. Justin Courtney, co-chairman.

Parchman tour...

At one point Waller was asked about charges by some persons that Parchman was becoming a "country club." He said he didn't think anyone could call Parchman a country club.

Reed was interrogated at length later about various rumors regarding problems at the penitentiary. He branded as "absolute falsehoods" unconfirmed reports involving drinking by himself and other prison officials.

Reed said he was subjected to a barrage of rumors and other pressures since taking over the post. He said he was "mystified" at the pressure tactics and wished that certain groups would try to help improve the prison rather than "continually downgrading Parchman."

He declined to mention any names.

Reed said the criticism has not affected his operations.

Assembly receives honor

For the fourth time in as many months, the Christ's Ambassadors youth group of First Assembly of God Church in Waveland captured the coast area sectional banner awarded for superior youth ministry.

Reverend P. J. Paramore, pastor of the church, said the banner is presented each month to one of 15 churches in the coast area on the basis of achievement, ministry and offering from the young people's organization within the church.

First Assembly first won the distinction in February at a youth rally at the First Assembly of God Church of Gulfport. They have kept the banner through subsequent rallies at First Assembly of Poplarville in March, Victory Temple Assembly in Gulfport in April, and this month at Central Assembly in Biloxi.

Reverend Paramore said the young people's accomplishments were more remarkable in light of the fact that they were judged superior consistently against churches of much larger size. Paramore said that the youth group aged 13-35 years old were currently involved in outreach ministry to senior citizens as well as helping build new athletic facilities at the church and conducting services occasionally.

Holding the banners which have remained in the hands of the First Assembly of God Church of Waveland for four months are from left: David Landon, CA vice-president; Reverend P.J. Paramore; Donna Ralph, CA secretary; and Kenneth Adam, youth director.

CHARLES B. MURPHY-8th grade winners Timothy J. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Smith, and Starlett Janiese Hollis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah W. Hollis, Sr., all of Pearlinton.

Fair weather and foul - the Rodeo goes on!

Pass Christian Fishing Rodeo has everything - including fish

the Sunday lineup

by Bob Innes
The Pass Christian Jaycees had the tides turned on them as wind and water forced the second annual fishing rodeo to continue through Memorial Day.

Sunday morning brought driving winds and rain that collapsed the main tents, but Monday broke fair and sunny and everybody just kept on fishing and having a good time.

Highlighting the closing of the event were trophy presentations and a long night of entertainment under the big tent.

Evans Walters took King Fisherman honors in the salt-water division with a four day total of eight points for his catches of jack fish, spanish mackerel and lemon fish.

A shark weighing 58 pounds caught by Bruce Phelps gave him top honors in the "largest fish category." Officials explained that although Evans Walters landed a 61½ pound lemon fish, he didn't enter it into the category leaving Phelps as the winner.

McCall Schufft nosed out Ernie LeBeau with a 25 pound red fish to win that category. Cliff Pierce captured the win in the speckled trout category with a six pound, two ounce fish. Eddie Kahler won in the jack fish competition with a 28 pound catch.

Ray James dominated the fresh water fishing division by taking all three winning places in the perch and catfish classes. However, Ernie LeBeau brought in a five pound bass to take the trophy in that category.

Competition in the children's division saw Mike Dedeaux nipped Scott Farve for the croaker title, Arthur Hayden landed the biggest flounder, and Albert Nidlet had a three pound speckled trout to beat his challengers in that category.

Jaycee President Les Ladner and Rodeo chairman said the four day event had been very successful despite the weather over the weekend.

A live band set the stage for a fish fry Monday night that was of no charge to the public.

Trophy presentations were made under the main tent at 6:30 by rodeo officials and Gulf Coast outdoorsman-celebrity Dudley Heiliger served as toastmaster for the ceremonies.

Zibilich signed

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Rick Zibilich, voted this year's Most Valuable Player in New Orleans high school baseball, has signed a grant-in-aid scholarship with Ole Miss.

The signing of Zibilich was announced Saturday by Rebel head coach Jake Gibbs.

Zibilich, outstanding pitcher-second baseman, led Rummel High of New Orleans to the Louisiana-Class-AAAA state championship with a 9-0 pitching record and .316 batting average.

At 6-0, 180, the righthanded Zibilich was All-City, Most Valuable in District 11-AAAA and All-State in compiling a 7-0 regular season record. In the state playoffs, he added two more victories with a one-hitter and finished with a no-hitter in the championship game.

During his senior season, he won 66 innings, permitting 24 hits and nine earned runs while striking out 37 and earning out of the nine complete games he hurled, there was one-hitter, two one-hitters and two no-hitters.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Zibilich of Metairie, La., Zibilich's senior pitching record in high school play was 25-1. His Rummel Coach was Larry Schneider.

When not pitching, Zibilich was utilized at second base. He hit over .300 in each of his four prep campaigns. During the 1974 state playoffs, he went six-for-nine.

Zibilich who was signed by Reb assistant coach Larry Williams, is the fourth player signed by the Rebels for 1975. Previously signed were outfielder Mike Templeton of Jackson and infielders Mark May of Memphis and Kevin Brawner of Corinth.

Long Beach in season opener

The Gulf Coast Senior Babe Ruth Baseball League will open its inaugural season with three games Sunday afternoon, with Long Beach hosting the season's first doubleheader.

High School field prior to the first game.

Rebel-Tiger clash is early sellout

UNIVERSITY, Miss., The 17th consecutive sellout for the Ole Miss-LSU football game, scheduled this year for Baton Rouge on the night of Nov. 2, was announced Thursday by John Reed Holley, business manager of athletics.

It is the earliest sellout in the history of the Rebel-Tiger series and Holley attributed the early sale to a reduction in tickets allotted Ole Miss from the 10,418 total of prior years to 9,363 and the sizable increase in this year's Rebel season ticket sales. Tiger Stadium in Baton Rouge seats 67,510.

All alumni or former season ticket purchasers who qualified as 1974 season ticket purchasers will receive LSU game tickets, it was announced. Refunds on LSU ticket orders which could not be filled will begin June 1.

"This year's sellout," Holley said, "aside from student allotments, includes both schools."

The sale of tickets to the Sept. 14 game in Jackson with Missouri, the Sept. 21 game in Memphis with Memphis State, the Sept. 28 game on the campus with Southern Mississippi, the Oct. 5 game in Jackson with Alabama, the Oct. 19 Homecoming game with South Carolina, the Nov. 16 game in Memphis with Tennessee and the Nov. 23 game in Jackson with Mississippi State have been excellent.

O'DAY-With victories like last Saturday's, Buzzy Heausler is well on his way toward the National Single-Handed Sailing Championship. Bay Waveland's representative in the O'Day National Quarter-Finals at Ocean Springs Yacht Club, Heausler won all four races in the Sunfish round-robin series.

Robert Brennan of New Orleans Yacht Club was second in all the races. Pat Humphries of host club Ocean Springs tied for third with Douglas Poole of Pontchartrain Yacht Club.

Heausler and Brennan both qualify to sail in the Semi-Finals which will be held at New Orleans Yacht Club on July 27 and 28. The Semi-Finals winner will compete in the National Finals at the Royal Victorian Yacht Club in British Columbia.

MALLORY-In spite of a disqualification in the first race, Bay Waveland's Mallory crew of Marc Eagan, Ed Turnipseed and Woody Stieffel finished within a quarter of a point of first place in the Quarter-Finals of the Men's National Sailing Championship. Eagan did some fine sailing in the round robin Flying Scot series held at Pass Christian Yacht Club May 25 and 26, with three first place finishes, a second, fourth and DSQ.

Winner of the Quarter-Finals was Dwight LeBlanc of Southern Yacht Club, with Karen Furlow and Bobby Schmeck crewing. LeBlanc's finishes were three seconds and three thirds.

Le Blanc and Eagan will compete next in the Semi-Finals July 20 and 21 at the Oklahoma City Boat Club in Oklahoma. Winner of the Semi-Finals will go to the Mallory Finals to be held at the Seattle and Corinthian Yacht Club in Seattle, Washington.

ISLAND CRUISE-Smugglers' Cove on Cat Island resembled the marina of some big resort as a record crowd of more than thirty boats congregated for an exciting fun-packed week-end. There was swimming in the surf in the sun and later in the beautiful phosphorescence in the water at night. There was lots of fishing from the boats and the shore. Some cooked and slept on board their boats in the Cove, while others barbecued on the beach and slept in tents or hammocks.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

The rains of last Tuesday and Wednesday hampered fishing again, both fresh and salt water. Looks like things just won't get right. Maybe after May the tides and winds will get normal and fishing in general will get better. As old timers say we need a good old northwestern to straighten things out. Of course, a few fish are accidentally caught here and there most any old time.

As for fresh water fishing the waters were just clearing up when bang more rain came. We predict it will be a week or two before the waters clear at the head of most bayous and out front where salt water fish are caught. Those catching catfish are not doing too bad.

Saw some nice ones caught up Bayou La Croix the other day. As for eating they are hard to beat when fried as small steaks or made into courtbouillon or just plain old baked.

Heard a seven-foot alligator was captured out in front of St. Stanislaus last week. Probably made its way out of the ravine.

Fishing in local ponds and lakes is getting rather rough with too much grass taking over. These ponds and lakes are full of hard crabs believe it or not. They can be caught with a scoop net from a boat preferably. They move among the grass and are easily seen.

Do you know that the name crayfish can be spelled either way, crayfish or crawfish and that they are also called crawdad, gass crab, minilobster and mud bugs?

It is illegal to use excessive speed in proximity to other boats. It is not only dangerous, but illegal.

Harris Bourgeois is one of our local shrimpers. He loves to eat shrimp as well as catch them. Harris is like a little girl going to her first birthday party waiting for the opening of the shrimp season. Tell us there should be some good shrimping this season. Understand brown shrimp are getting larger all the time.

Just heard of a young man who loves both fresh and salt water fishing. He is Pat Bourgeois. Anything as long as it's fishing suits him. Think he prefers fresh water fishing. He uses a fly rod to perfection. Will have to get together, Pat. By the way he is Terrell's brother. Terrell can't go as often as he would like to; he's another salt water fisherman.

Snakes are beginning to make their appearance. When you see one let it alone and usually it won't bother you. The only good snake is a dead one in my way of thinking.

Claude Tracey who is recuperating from major surgery and his wife Hazel are planning to do quite a bit of fishing when things get right. Claude has purchased new rods, reels, etc. and as he put it is "going to tear 'em up." Both Claude and Hazel are ardent fishermen.

It is always a pleasure to meet and talk to "Wild Bill" Stewart, a fisherman plus. Bill is from Poplarville but spends most of his time at the Bay. Regarding barbecuing perch he can't beat. He says, you get the perch, I'll barbecue 'em.

Harry Carver and Terrell Necaice recently caught three red fish, 4 to 12 lbs., plus three dozen hard crabs. Wouldn't say where they got them. Both are good fishermen.

Terry Proffer is from Pass Christian. He does both salt and fresh water fishing. During the winter he also hunts. Beef pursuing these sports for a long time. Gave us a few tricks about catching fish.

Most everyone know Bravo Woodcock from the Pass. He fly fishes, casts etc. and is an expert with a cast net. When fish and shrimp are around he will get his share. Known him a long time. Told us of some good fishing spots. Thanks Bravo.

Don Greene who writes "All Outdoors" says fishing is getting better. He stated Ron Coulon gives local freshwater action an excellent rating during the past few days, with many area ponds having been rejuvenated by heavy rainfall. There is excellent fresh water fishing in our sister state, Louisiana. Why not make a trip over that way? Find new fishing spots. According to Don and his associates bass up to 3 pounds are being hauled in. Do you know of anything better than catching a 3 pounder on a 5 1/2 ounce fly rod?

Buddy Erskine and Leo Poolson caught a bunch of speckle trout out at Half Moon Friday. They were really hitting the boys said.

Was a pleasure to see Chink and Ruth LaFontaine down at the Bay Saturday. They were attending the funeral of young Fricke who was buried on that day. Come down more often folks.

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK — Pete Strong is another member of the Strong family, one of the oldest and largest of our local commercial fishing families. No exception to the family tradition, Pete gets his share of fish and crabs, and now that he's retired he has time to enjoy his favorite sport, he says.

Speckle trout were caught the end of last week along the seawall down to Bayou Caddy. Ernest Strong caught 13 nice ones just beyond the American Legion Peir, Saturday.

Harlin Watkins didn't do so good. He caught a few down by Bayou Caddy. He claimed they were only hitting live shrimp. Live shrimp as long as they last can be secured at Bordages Fishing Camp on Bayou Caddy.

If the water stays clear speckles can be caught also on plugs. Right now they are mostly school trout and will also strike Shad Rigs.

Junior Bourgeois caught both speckles and red fish the end of last week down by Bayou Caddy. Junior said the red fish were of nice size.

A place where seafood, both raw and cooked, can be bought is Carmel's Sea Food place on the Lakeshore road. Fishermen can bring home stuffed artichokes, stuffed crabs, gumbo, fresh seafood. Something fishermen should want to know is that they have fishing equipment, trawls, etc. Wallace V. Jeanfreau a fisherman himself is owner. Stop by and meet a real sport.

BIRTHS

New officers installed

Employers feted at DE Club banquet

The Distributive Education Club of Bay Senior High held an annual Employer-Employee Banquet at Scaife's Wheel Inn May 8.

Each year the annual affair recognizes the students' employers for their aid throughout the year and honors two outstanding students. Special guests were Glen Hayes and Miss Dona Marigliano. Hayes is from the Gulfport High School, DECA Chapter and is the past state President of Mississippi DECA.

Miss Marigliano is the new president of Mississippi DECA for 1974-75 and attends Harrison Central High School. Also attending the banquet, representing the Bay High administration were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McCullough, Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Magee, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ladner, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Seymour, and Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Carter.

Sheree Milam and Becky Boudreaux, accompanied by Mrs. Danny Howard, entertained with a medley of songs.

For outstanding service throughout the year to the D.E. program at Bay High, Ethel Ladner, R.N., Evelyn Cox, R.N., Nelda Doss, R.N., and Ann Garcia-L.P.N. attended a one day workshop on "Cancer - Nursing" last Tuesday. The event was held at the Broadwater in Biloxi.

Margaret Polillon, business office, is presently a patient in HGH. Hope you feel better soon!

Betty Romanoff (lab) had as her guest last weekend her son Michael. Michael is a student at Southern University in Hattiesburg.
